SENATE PATRONAGE PROBERS CALLED TO RECONVENE MONDAY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(P)—The senate continued its recess program today, adjourning until Monday after a session of two minutes during which no business was transacted.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(P)—The senate patronage investigating committee was called today by Chairman Brookhart to reconvene here Monday for the consideration of additional evidence touching conditions in the southern states.

Senator Brookhart said the evidence pertained principally to Texas where the committee conducted a hearing early in the summer, but he declined to discuss its nature.

Fred Strang, Fort Worth, Tex., oil operator, conferred today with Senator Brookhart and was promised a hearing. Strang has documents which he said would support charges of conspiracy and fraud in Texas involving receiverships.

After a conference with Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, the committee chairman said the meeting on Monday would take up several patronage phases.

"The evidence is increasing," Brookhart said. "It is coming to the committee in greater volume than ever."

PRINCIPLES LAID DOWN FOR DAIRYING IN SUCCESSFUL WAY

TED FERGUSON MADE TOUR WITH TEXANS OF PRINCIPAL DAIRYING STATES

Individual study of each cow through a test association, plenty of hard work, good farm management, and proper handling of the stock are the principles of successful dairy-farming secured by the party of Texans who composed the All-Texas Dairy tour to the leading dairying sections recently according to Ted B. Ferguson, manager of the Texas Power & Light company who was a member of the party.

The tour was organized through the efforts of the Waco chamber of commerce, and the party was composed of about fifty men from various sections of the state. Mr. Ferguson was the only representative from Navarro county.

Leaving Waco on Sunday, August 11, the party went to Kansas City where they were greeted by the agricultural committee of the chamber of commerce, and the dairy specialist of Jackson county, Missouri. Their first point of call was the Longview farm which specialized in Jersey cattle, saddle and harness horses. Their large dairy herd is one of the best in the country and the farm is under almost ideal management which is bringing good returns on the investment. Mr. Ferguson said, "All branches of the work on the farm are not producing a profit but the dairy herd is, he asserted.

Study Care of Herds

Other farms who milk from 10 to 40 cows were visited by the group, who studied particularly the care and handling of the herds and the housing; all of them were very successful dairy farms.

From Kansas City the party went to Waterloo, Iowa, the center of the greatest dairying section of the United States, which is comprised of Blackhawk and Brenner counties. Here Mr. Ferguson stated the visitors found dairying at its best, with large herds of Guernseys, Holsteins, Brown Swiss and a few Jerseys, the majority pure-bred.

Both quantity and quality production are stressed by the dairy farmers of this section according to Mr. Ferguson, and the records of the test association show that the majority of the cows produce about four per cent but they are constantly breeding up the herds to the highest point of efficiency.

Two of the leading dairy authorities in the nation were presented to the visitors on this trip. One was W. W. March, former democratic national committeeman, and a famous breeder of Guernseys, and the other was Hugh Van Pelt, celebrated stock judge, and Jersey breeder, who is well known in the Southwest. According to Mr. Ferguson, Mr. Van Pelt gave the party a liberal education in breeding.

Breeding Up Best

The Jersey expert declared that dairy farmers had no business attempting to start their herds with pure bred stock, because of the extremely high initial cost, but better satisfaction will be secured from breeding up the farm stock by providing good sires, careful culling and banding. He narrated an experiment that had been conducted at Ames College, where several of the poorest type of cows available were secured and bred to pure blooded sires. In three generations, the production had increased about fifty per cent both in quantity and quality, although it was practically impossible to determine the products from the original herd.

The section around Waterloo has none of the feedstuffs raised on the farms, Mr. Ferguson declared, and in the entire state the average is only about twenty per cent of the feedstuff sold off the native range. Expensive equipment and improvements appear on every farm in this section, and all interest is centered in the livestock. Land in this section is priced from $160 to $300 an acre, and even at that high valuation brings good returns on the investment, according to investigations made by members of the party.

Mr. Ferguson declared that the answer as to why the high return was management and hard work. In almost every case the sons of the family are securing the best training possible and then are returned to their home farms and devoting their efforts to more successful stock raising and dairying.

All of the farms are run strictly as business establishments, with a high grade of labor employed.

Visited Chicago.

The party next visited Chicago, and they were conducted on a tour by the Public Service company of Northern Illinois. The visitors were taken on a special train to a point on the north shore of Lake Michigan and there buses were provided for the remainder of the trip. Among the points visited were Samuel Insull's stock farm, which produces both high grade cattle and horses, and the model farm of the company where electricity is put to every practicable use. The visitors were entertained over night at Lake Delavan, famed Wisconsin summer resort.

They then visited one of the Borden plants, which milks 700 cows, all of which are formula fed, carefully handled and exercised and all of whom are making extra high returns, composed principally of Hosteins, with a sprinkling of Guernseys and Brown Swiss. They also visited a Borden bottling plant where the milk was prepared for the Chicago retail market. Every thing was found to be the acme of sanitation with all the modern improvements and equipment.

Thompson's Malted Milk Plant was another point of call and this interesting process was explained in detail to the visitors.

The party returned to Texas Sunday, August 18, after covering a majority of the leading dairy sections of the middle west. Mr. Ferguson expressed regret that a number of Navarro county leaders could not have made the trip.

QUICKLY GETS BACK OLD TIME STRENGTH

"The Sargon treatment is simply wonderful for bringing back strength and energy for now, after a few weeks taking it, I feel like a different man entirely.

"On account of my work I was forced to eat and sleep irregularly for a long time, with the result that I became very run down and debilitated. Chronic indigestion gradually weakened me and kept me in bad health. I would suffer terrible pains after every meal, no matter how light it was. At night these pains robbed me of sleep and my condition finally got so bad I couldn't even eat an orange or a grape fruit without suffering afterwards. Naturally, I was always tired and listless.

"Then I started Sargon—and commenced to feel better right from the beginning. I now enjoy my food and my digestion is fine. I'm never bothered with stomach trouble and get plenty of good, sound sleep. I feel better and stronger than I have in years—and I'll never be without Sargon again"—E. D. WOULD ESTABLISH NON-COTTON ZONE ALONG BORDER LINE

AUSTIN, Aug. 21.—(P)—Establishment of a non-cotton zone along the international boundary between the United States and Mexico is advocated by officials in an effort to eradicate the pink boll worm.

J. M. Del Curto, chief state entomologist, and R. E. McDonald, in charge of pink boll worm activities for the federal government in Texas and New Mexico, have gone to the city of Mexico seeking co-operation of the officials there.

They are advocating a non-cotton zone on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande along the border.

George B. Terrell, state commissioner of agriculture, said it had been found impossible to control the spread into Texas of the pink boll worm unless a concentrated movement to stop the growing of cotton on both sides of the border was started by Texas and Mexico.

AMERICAN LEGION WORLD SERIES TO BE ON AIR THREE DAYS

The world series games of the American Legion Junior Baseball competition, to be played in Louisville, Ky., Sept. 4, 5 and 6, will be broadcast, play by play, in a nation-wide hookup by the National Broadcasting company, according to information received by George W. Reid, post adjutant of the American Legion here today from department headquarters.

George McNamee, famous sport announcer on the radio, will be at the microphones as well as Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, high commissioner of organized baseball, the two major leagues having sponsored the Legion program this year, as it did last, to the extent of $50,000.

The games in Louisville will start promptly at 2 p. m. Central Standard time, according to arrangements which have been made by Dan Sowers, national director of the Legion activity. The world series will be the climax of elimination or regional tournaments between state championship teams throughout the United States, the post official said. "Between 300,000 and 500,000 boys are enrolled in the Legion baseball program this year, as compared to 122,000 last year. The games attracted boys, who under the Legion rules, must be under 17 years of age. Various organizations particularly the civic and patriotic societies, have supported teams and even leagues in the competition, because the activity has for its main objective the teaching of good citizenship through adherence to fair play and clean sportsmanship.

Every state and the District of Columbia is represented in the Legion program and the thousands of boys are well and evenly distributed according to population."

Mrs. Tex Rickard Is Almost Penniless and Is Seeking Position

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—(AP)—The New York American today quotes Mrs. Tex Rickard, young widow of the famous fight promoter, as saying she is almost penniless although her husband was reputed to be worth $1,000,000 when he died.

Mrs. Rickard said she has received less than $5,000 from the estate and had little hope of getting any more. The American describes the $500,000 trust fund created for their two-year-old daughter, Maxine, as only a generous dream on the part of Mr. Rickard and says there will be nothing left for the daughter.

"My financial situation right now is such that I must step out and get a job in order to support my daughter," the paper quotes her as saying.

Mrs. Rickard is living in a modest cottage at Flushing, N. Y.

Helen Wills Making Short Work Matches

FORST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 22.—(AP)—Helen Wills never played tennis more irresistibly than in the recent national women's championship at the West Side Stadium. In three of the quickest matches on record, the poker-faced champion of the world has overwhelmed two players by scores of 6-0, 6-0, and accounted for a third at 6-1, 6-0.

Her matches thus far have been on one side that not even world-wide fame and her terrific winning of the ball have been able to keep the attention of the gallery from straying to the matches that happened to be in progress on an adjoining court.

This was the case yesterday when Miss Wills outclassed Alice Francis of Orange, N. J., the country's 12th ranking player in two sets.

Roaming the Realm of County Sports

By DELMORE OLSEN.

Forty-six of the forty-seven boys in the State Home high school are out for football this year, it was announced today. The youngsters, a large part of which have never played before, are working out daily under the watchful eyes of their newly elected coach, R. R. Butler.

The practice sessions for the past few days have consisted of exercises intended to work out all the sore muscles and get them in condition for the coming season which starts with the Cleburne game in Cleburne about the middle of September.

Providence has won the class B trophy in boys competition for the past two years and, if they are successful in defending the trophy during the coming year, it will become the property of the school, to be added to the ever increasing number of symbols of athletic prowess.

It looks like the Providence reign over class B courts is about to cease, as a number of regular players will not be on hand for the call about the first of October. With teams as powerful as Bryan, Rice, Emhouse and Blooming Grove in the field, the county champs will have a hard time coming through with their third straight championship.

The Corsicana high school basketball team will begin practice about the middle of October for the boys not engaging in football. Coach Douglas told us the other day, the coach who has put Corsicana on the map in basketball competition, declined to discuss the prospects for the coming season, but smiled and said that he would have a fighting bunch again.

The first time he tried to read after the accident his glasses obscured his vision. He took them off and found he could read with out difficulty. An expert told him there was precedent for the correction of eye afflictions by a severe blow.

RUPTURE EXPERT HERE

C. F. Redlich, Minneapolis, Minn., nationally famous Rupture Application Expert, will demonstrate without charge his unequalled method at the Navarro Hotel, Corsicana, Tuesday, Sept. 3, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Mr. C. F. Redlich says:

The "Perfect Retention Shields" hold the rupture perfectly, no matter what position the body assumes or how heavy a weight you lift. They give instant relief and contract the opening in a remarkably short time.

The secret of their success is in their simplicity. An expertly adjusted device seals the opening without discomfort or detention from work. It is perfectly everlasting, sanitary, comfortable and actually holds ruptures which herefore were considered uncontrollable.

"IF YOU WANT TO HAVE IT DONE RIGHT—SEE REDLICH."

Doctor J. W. Seaver, for many years in charge of the Physical Education of the students of Yale College, has recorded 75 per cent cures with this system.

DALLAS COUNTY OFFICIALS WELL PAID FOR LABORS

DALLAS, Aug. 22.—(SpL)—The legislative committee investigating fees received by county officials adjourned its two-day session here today and prepared to go to Greenway to continue the inquiry after establishing that fees and salaries of eight Dallas county officials ranged from $8,000 to $22,000 a year with a maximum of $30,000 a year.

"What would you say if I were to introduce a bill at the next legislature to put a limit of $12,000 a year on the office of district attorney of Dallas county?" asked Senator Pink Parrish of Lubbock.

"I would rise up and call you blessed," replied McCraw. "That would raise me just about $8,000 a year, and I might be persuaded to make the sacrifice and run for office again, although I have only been thinking about establishing my $8,000 job or one that pays just half as much."

McCraw, for some time has been mentioned as a possible candidate for state attorney general in 1930.

"KNOW TEXAS."

From time to time there has appeared in the editorial columns of the Sun bits of information concerning the Lone Star State under the heading of "Know Texas." This "Know Texas" information has been carried over a number of years and during that time interesting and unusual data covering every section of the state has been published. There has been no attempt to play one particular section of Texas against the other in "Know Texas." We believe that during the time "Know Texas" has appeared in the Sun every section of the state has been represented.

The last "Know Texas" appearing in the Sun brought the following communication addressed to the Daily Sun and signed "W. W. Jenkins, Alpine, sojourning in Corsicana":

An article in the editorial columns of The Sun a few days ago entitled, "Know Texas," suggested to the writer that he might help its readers "know" something about an interesting section of Texas without implying in the effort that his fellow citizens of the Lowlands are deficient in a knowledge of the physical geography of our State.

"Those of us who had our first lessons in geography from the old texts, regnant with the 'blue back' speller, Ray's arithmetic and the McGuffey readers will—or may—recall that the mountains of 'West Texas' were disposed of with the simple statement that they are 'foot-hills' of the mighty Rockies; that we had to learn that Mt. Washington in New Hampshire with its 6,293 feet and Mt. Mitchell in North Carolina with its 6,711 feet were the high points in the Appalachian mountain system. We know now that there are fourteen peaks in the Big Bend section of Texas higher than Mt. Mitchell; and twenty-two that tower above Mt. Washington. Know Texas?"

How many otherwise well-informed citizens of Texas know that the highest point on the Southern Pacific between New Orleans and San Francisco is in Texas? That point is Piasano, eleven miles west of Alpine. Because he had to use that pass in his mad search for gold, Coronado with his band of explorers camped at Piasano centuries before Dr. George Truett of Dallas appropriated it for summer use as a Baptist encampment. Itself nearly a mile above the sea, it is surrounded by mountains that rise to a height of almost a mile and a half. Know Texas, yes. Get your field glasses and take a squint at Mt. Emory in Southern Brewster county in its ozone-laden atmosphere nearly 9,000 feet higher than historic Galveston. Mt. Emory is the highest point in Texas. Alpine, the county seat of Brewster county, has an elevation of approximately 4,500 feet. Fort Davis in Jeff Davis county 25 miles from Alpine has an elevation of exceeding 5,000 feet, while Marfa, 27 miles west of Alpine, gets along with 4,600 feet elevation.

"Just a word in general about the Big Bend country. The Rio Grande skirts Brewster county a total of 125 miles, climaxing its bending feats in the Terlingua quicksilver mining section ninety miles south of Alpine, by establishing points on the Texas side where one may look into sunset and see Texas, or into sunrise and see Mexico. And, of course, see both Angolando and Mexiqueland while looking in the same direction without having it charged that either sotol or tequila was responsible for the phenomenon. Here the Rio Grande in a determined effort to remain neutral between the two republics escapes Mexico by cutting its way through a mountain, thus forming the Grand Canyon of Texas, the walls of which rise 2,000 feet above the turbid waters, below. Farther down, the river smashes through thirty miles of another range, forming the weirdly beautiful Mariscal Canyon. Still in Brewster county, but 125 miles from Alpine and 2,000 feet lower, "Know Texas" is a big order, Mr. Editor; and the Big Bend alone and its Highlands is a limitless but profitable study.

"If your paragrapher who poked fun at 'tourists' a few days ago about writing to folks back home about how many blankets they sleep under will undertake to sleep in the open in Alpine with only his nightie for 'cover,' he will send an order back to his home merchant for the heaviest blanket procurable marked, et two score mark. And great men of history have been highly productive even to the age of 80.

The editor of this paper fully agrees with Mr. Jenkins on all he says about the Big Bend country. As we spent two years of our life in Terlingua, Lajitas, Santa Helena, Marfa, Alpine and other points in Brewster and Presidio counties, we believe we are qualified to know. However, if our memory serves us correctly, we believe Mr. Jenkins is in error about Mt. Emory being the highest point in Texas. As well as we remember Guadalupe Peak in Culberson county holds that distinction. Guadalupe Peak is 9,500 feet while Mt. Emory is 9,000 feet. But 500 feet is not enough to argue about in a country like that. The Big Bend country will be developed some day and when it is will be another winter garden spot of the Southwestern section. California has nothing on this section of Texas only that the California desert lands have been developed and the Big Bend has not. The Chisos quicksilver mine, one of the largest in the world is located at Terlingua in Brewster county as well as several other smaller ones including the Study Butte mine. The climate is wonderful and the scenery cannot be beat. In Mr. Jenkins communication we also see another familiar word. That is sotol. But we will not discuss that commodity.

Thanks Mr. Jenkins for your communication. We appreciate it very much. It brings back pleasant memories of a great country. A close up view of the Grand Canyon of the Rio Grande is worth anybody's time and money.

AMERICAN SHIPPING.

For the 10 years prior to the Great war, the average American cargo carried on the high seas in American ships was slightly more than 10 per cent of the total American cargoes. The decade ended June 30, 1929, shows a much larger proportion of a much larger foreign trade carried in American bottoms. The percentage has increased to 36.

The comparison appears in an analysis by the bureau of research of the United States shipping board. Last fiscal year American ships carried one-third in value and 40 per cent in volume of American foreign trade. Total value of the cargoes is put at $8,000,000,000.

The large importance of participation by the United States in transoceanic shipping, on a scale commensurate with the nation's size and commercial importance is emphasized.

Every inducement is offered the cotton farmer to bring his staple to the Corsicana market. The present day successful farmer is a business man and markets his crops where they can be sold to the best advantage. Corsicana is the logical city for the farmer of this section to dispose of his cotton.

"What are these big mountains here?" asked the near-sighted general, examining a map of the Russo-Chinese frontier. "Those aren't mountains. They're consonants."

Whenever they cut the time of trans-Atlantic voyages, some cynics hold that America is brought nearer a state of civilization.

IF 35 WERE THE LIFE SPAN.

One of the best known modern philosophers and authors takes the startling position that most men ought to die at 35. At 40, he claims, men are but a reminiscence, that at 35 the average man is at the height of his life curve and should be put out of the way at that zenith. That he lacks the courage of his convictions is apparent from the fact that he is now 44 years old and still looks both ways at street crossings. And he has produced his greatest literary works in the past five years.

The suggestion has aroused indignant protest from men and women in all walks of life and of all ages above 35. These point out that most of the great achievements in history were consummated by men past the two score mark. And great men of history have been highly productive even to the age of 80.

To the average man it appears that the philosopher has overlooked one important consideration. Even should it be granted that most men are at the height of their curve at 35, which probably of itself is untrue, it does not follow that other important work may not be accomplished while the curve is receding. Would the world be better off without such accomplishment, even though it were not quite up to that which was effected at 35?

The theory that there is no place in the industrial scheme for men past the so-called prime of life is rapidly losing ground. While it cannot be denied that the enthusiasm of youth is a valuable asset, it is equally true that with age comes experience, and experience is indispensable. Society would be distinctly the loser if such men as Edison, Ford, the elder Morgan, Rockefeller and Gary had been taken out of production at the age of 35.

"RABBIT FEVER."

Discovery that tularemia, popularly known as "rabbit fever," because it is transmitted by infected wild rabbits, also occurs in quail and perhaps in other game, raises a new problem, according to a statement August 9 by the United States Public Health Service. If it is ascertained that tularemia infection is the causative factor in epidemics that affect native species of game birds, "the matter appears to be one of some importance because of the danger of human infection and as a possible factor in game bird abundance.

It was explained at the Public Health Service that tularemia is transmitted to the rabbit by the bite of a tick. The tick does not bite the human. The human contracts the disease by handling the rabbit. A diseased rabbit, after it is cooked, is not dangerous.

The full text of the statement follows:

The question whether tularemia occurs as a natural infection of game birds has been the subject of recent scientific investigation and has been widely discussed in various publications relating to wild animal life.

The possibility that tularemia infection might be the causative factor in epidemics that affect native species of game birds in various sections of the United States has been suggested. If tularemia were so concerned, the matter appears to be one of some importance because of the resultant danger of human infection and as a possible factor in game bird abundance.

The results of the studies conducted so far by the United States Public Health Service have not been completed. However, it has been shown that quail are susceptible to the infection of tularemia and that they may suffer from the disease.

Two human cases of tularemia have been reported (one in North Carolina, the other in Tennessee) which indicate that the source of infection may have been quail. Although these studies are not yet completed, it is of importance that quail as a possibility of a source of infection for tularemia, be borne in mind.

RATE SCHEDULES MADE PUBLIC FOR FIRST TIME TUESDAY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20. —(P)—Chairman Smoot of the Senate Finance Committee today estimated the total revenue likely to be derived from the tariff rates proposed by that committee was $605,498,469 as compared with $646,014,545 under the house bill and $516,512,936 under existing law.

This would be a reduction of approximately $40,500,000 compared with the house bill and an increase of about $90,000,000 over customs receipts from the present Fordney-McCumber act.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—(P)—Rate schedules tentatively approved by the Republican tariff framers of the Senate Finance Committee were out in the open for the first time today and were promptly made the subject of sharp criticism from both Democratic and Republican independent quarters.

Showing about 360 changes written into the schedule voted by the house, the schedules were turned over to Democratic members of the committee to enable them to make their prima facie case for the measure in preparation for the lengthy debate to begin in the Senate after it is reported Sept. 4.

Republican committeemen, meanwhile, turned their attention to the controversial administrative provisions of the house bill, which contain the flexible tariff and other clauses likely to encounter severe opposition in the Senate.

Increases and Cuts.

The changes disclosed in the rate schedules include both increases and reductions, a comparison with the imports voted by the house. The greatest number of reductions in any schedule is proposed in that affecting chemicals, oils, and paints, and the greatest number of increases in the agriculture schedule. In the chemical schedule, the

FLOWERS, SHRUBS AND TREESBAGWORMS ON ORNAMENTAL PLANTSBy William Middleton
(U. S. Department of Agriculture)

Bagworms have now finished or nearly finished feeding for the year and soon will lay eggs for next year. The eggs remain protected within the bag until the following late spring and early summer, when the young caterpillars hatch and begin their destructive work.

From now until next spring bagworm cocoons wherever observed should be crushed or burned, but this method alone can not be depended upon for absolute protection during the following year.

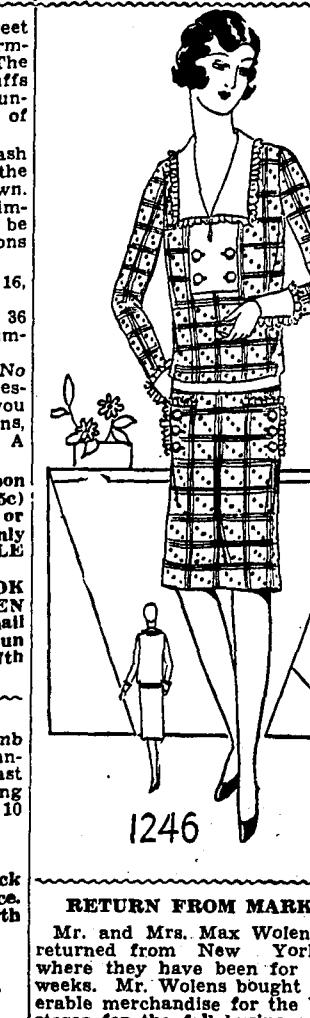

Another method of control consists in spraying the infested plants with a lead arsenate mixture—five or six teaspoonsfuls of powdered lead arsenate to a gallon of water.

This poison spray should be applied thoroughly to the foliage of infested ornamentals in the early summer as soon as the bagworms appear.

Behind them was a "simple determination to enable special groups of industrialists to cash in on their last year's campaign contributions."

The movement to confine the tariff revision chiefly to agricultural products was spearheaded by Senator Thomas, Democrat, Oklahoma, and Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho. Thomas announced plans to offer a resolution to eliminate all schedules in the committee but not relating to agriculture which, if adopted, would require the sponsors of changes in other sections to propose specific amendments and "make a case" for them on the floor.

Borah, Republican Independent who has expressed his dissatisfaction with the revision proposed by the house, said he would either support the Thomas resolution or introduce one of his own in similar lines. A resolution he introduced at the same objective, was defeated prior to the summer recess by only one vote.

RUSSIAN ATTACK ON JAIL-
AINOR FRIDAY

MURKDEN, Manchuria, Aug. 17.—(P)—Official Chinese reports today said 700 Soviet cavalrymen were repulsed yesterday in a vigorous attack on Taliandao, a station on the Chinese Eastern Railway 22 miles south of Manchuli. Both sides suffered casualties in dead and wounded.

The Soviet troops were supported by heavy artillery fire, the Chinese garrison with rifle fire and machine guns, 12 Russian dead were left on the field, four Chinese were wounded. The Russians remained on Chinese soil about three hours.

Another official message from Mukden said that after a heavy bombardment by artillery, Soviet cavalrymen yesterday attacked the Chinese defense line at Metyatoze, near Manchuli and 12 miles from the border. The fighting was said to be continuing. The latter report, notwithstanding its official character, was treated with suspicion, and two officers, six soldiers, and 10 civilians wounded, serve pending independent confirmation.

TOKYO, Aug. 17.—(P)—Dispatches from Asahi Shimbu, from Pogranchnaya today said Chinese and Russian outposts had clashed south of Pogranchnaya during the morning of Aug. 14, when Red cavalry allegedly invaded Chinese territory.

Since the clash the Chinese garrison at Pogranchnaya has been reinforced strongly.

Rengo dispatches from Khallar said a band of guerrillas believed to be members of a "Young Mongolia" party raided a village eight miles east of Khallar on Aug. 16, and killed several civilians before Chinese troops drove off the raiders.

Rengo dispatches from Harbin said Chinese and Russian troops clashed yesterday near Hallaho, a station on the Chinese Eastern Railway 31 miles northwest of Pogranchnaya. After a brief exchange of firing, the Russians retired.

Rengo Mukden dispatches said Chang Hsueh Liang, head of the Manchurian provincial government after a military council at Mukden ordered mobilization of four additional infantry brigades; one cavalry brigade, and air units.

Chinese Troops Mobilized.
SHANGHAI, Aug. 17.—(P)—Marshal Chiang Kai-Shek of Manchuria has ordered the mobilization of 20,000 troops to guard the Chinese Eastern Railway. The regular troops of the Mukden garrison are now stationed on the Piping-Mukden railway below Manchowfu.

Some of them have been ordered to proceed to Hallar and another portion to Kirin. Chang Tso-Ksiang, governor of Kirin, has taken command of both bodies of troops for border service.

MEXIA, Aug. 20.—(Spl.)—G. C. Jensen and Albert and Guy Baggett, drilling the Henry Powell No. 1 wildcat oil test inside the Mexia city limits, are drilling in the upper Woodbine series at 2975 feet, washing and sealing ahead carefully for the pay sands.

The test, which Mr. Jensen reported topped the sand at 2180 feet in place, at 2500 feet has a 140 foot displacement. It is being checked by the log of another test drilled eight years ago yesterday.

As soon as sand is detected the core will be taken. If the Woodbine pay is not found at this depth the bit will continue for 300 feet more.

Miss Lett had entered the lists with her mother, Mrs. C. N. Lett. The daughter's blood pressure was found to be 106, and phys' lans said she was proven her from swimming in colder than 60 degrees. Mrs. Lett said she might give up the race because of her daughter's inability to compete, but at the last report, she had not withdrawn her name.

Manchuria were declared in Soviet circles today to offer conclusive proof that China "is acting as a blind tool" in the hands of a vast imperialistic combine" determined to challenge soviet power on the field of battle.

The Russians contend that the Soviet union has been adopting only strictly resisting measures in the face of "the most unpreceded provocation in modern history." This reported Chinese action bears out fully, in the opinion of soviet diplomats, apprehensions felt here from the beginning that the capture of the Chinese Eastern railway, the arrest of Soviet citizens, the letting loose of bands of white Russians and the "killing and robbing of Russians on Soviet territory" has been but a well-calculated step in a far-reaching imperialistic scheme to draw Soviet Russia into war.

Soviet diplomats, declaring a persistent desire to avoid calamity, insist on the validity of the 1924 Chinese Eastern railway treaty stating this policy is not so much in compliance with juridical questions or notions of national honor, but on the basis that to yield further would under the circumstances mean giving freedom on Soviet Russia's eastern frontiers to embolden their countries in anti-Soviet Russia into war.

OLD STONES IN JERUSALEM TELL TALE OF TEMPLE TIMES

Crudeness of Cutting and Haste in Building Reveal To Archaeologists Differences Between Work of Solomon and Zerubbabel—Some Significances of Temple Idea.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

One of the most significant incidents in present-day Jerusalem is the presence of Jewish sight-seers in the Haram, or sacred enclosure of the Mosque of Omar. In pre-Zionist days this was never done. For the Mosque of Omar stands on the site of the ancient temples of Judaism, and no devout Jew would venture near, lest he should inadvertently set foot upon the Holy of Holies of his religion. Reverence for this most sacred spot on earth kept all good Jews away from the possibility of profaning it.

Nowadays, however, one may see, as I have more than once seen, groups of interested young Jews wandering all about the place, inside the Mosque and out, even down into the crypt where is the rock upon which tradition says Abraham offered Isaac. The significance of this is that the modern Zionist movement is political and social, rather than religious. Orthodox Jews in Palestine oppose it for this reason. It is a return to the land without zeal for the temple. The exclusively Jewish city of Tel-Aviv was far along in its developments before it had a synagogue. It is at this point that modern Zionism departs radically from the return of the Jews under Zerubbabel, Ezra and Nehemiah. These Babylonian exiles cared most of all for a Temple.

A Bit of History.

One cannot escape the thought of the general educational value of the study of this present International Uniform Lesson series by millions of persons. It is an introduction to a knowledge of ancient history. Myriads of persons have no sense of ancient times except as seen in connection with the Old Testament. Cyrus and Darius and Xerxes, and all the greatness and glory of the Persian Empire, become real only through their relations with the exiled Jews.

We even glimpse the completeness and accuracy of oriental historical records through the incident of King Darius finding in the archives at Ecbatana—the modern Hamadan—a copy of the decree of King Cyrus, permitting the return of the Jews and the rebuilding of the temple. Our present-day archaeologists have uncovered tens of thousands of these cuneiform tablets. We have a number of them myself, dating back far beyond the period of the exile.

Such historical lessons as the present one, with their dramatic modern corroborations, completely abolish the venerable criticism of the Bible to the effect that it is a series of made-up folk tales. Also they make and end of the ignorant notion that the story of the Jewish nation concerned the remote twilight of human history, before writing or accurate records were known. Stories like the one under study fix the fact that Bible history is real history, established beyond question or criticism. God's caves and wherever else the believers assembled.

Religion Without a Church
In our contemporary vogue of vagueness there is scant provision for the temple. In the minds of many, religion is becoming merely a social scheme, with the element of worship lacking. In thought and in practice, church-going is regarded as of diminishing importance.

Now it needs to be said that, as the temple was the heart and inspiration of the church, and regular attendance thereon, are indispensable to the effectiveness of Christianity. As churches become empty, so, at the same time, do the lives of the disciples. The habit of church-attendance is, for the average person, really essential to the practice of his faith.

A deal of bungo is talked by unthinking persons concerning "the worship of God in the great outdoors;" and the consequent substitution of the gold course or the baseball field and the motor highway for the house of God. Five minutes of honest thought by any person who stays away from churches.

Nobody ever hears, on a golf course or in a fishing boat, such a paean of devotion as sprang from the Hebrew heart after the rebuilding of the temple:

"How amiable are thy tabernacles, O Lord of hosts! My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the Lord; My heart and my flesh cry out unto the living God."

SEVEN SENTENCE SERMONS

He who knows only his own side of the case knows little of that.—J. S. Mill.

The life of work is the life for a man, and that which he achieves for himself is more precious than any inheritance, except that of a good name and a loving heart.—Mrs. C. Farley Cox.

O what a wonder seems the fear of death, Seeing how gladly we all sink to sleep. —Coleridge.

Anything that a man can avoid under the notion that it is bad, he may also avoid under the notion that something else is good.—Henry Churchill Kling.

And in like manner the Spirit also helpeth our infirmity; for we know not how to pray as we ought; but the Spirit itself maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered.—Rom. 8:26.

By him the deepest rest is won, Who toils beneath the noonday sun, Faithful until his work is done. —Phoebe Cary.

The secret of success lies in the man and not in the stuff he works on.—Bradford Torrey.

An Unpleasant Subject

All of the functions of life are not pleasant to consider. Perhaps this is why some mothers refuse to think that such symptoms as restlessness, loss of flesh, lack of appetite or itchy nose and fingers in their children, can be caused by round or pin worms. Many mothers have proven, however, that a few, doses of White's Cream Vermifuge, that sure and harmless worm expellant, will make these symptoms disappear. You can get White's Cream Vermifuge for 35 cents per bottle from JOHNSON DRUG CO.

NEW LIGHT RATE FOR COUNTY TOWNS HAS BEEN ANNOUNCED

SMALLER TOWNS OF COUNTY TO ENJOY WHAT IS KNOWN AS TWO-PART RATE

New rates for both residential lighting service and commercial lighting service in Anna, Corbett, Jester, Creek, Currie, Elmhouse, Mildred, Navarro, Pickett and Purdon, were announced by Ted B. Ferguson, district manager of the Texas Power & Light company, to become effective with the next bills received by residential and commercial customers in these communities. Both rates are similar in form and are known as two part rates, with a flat charge and an energy charge.

"The new residential rate has a flat charge and two energy steps of 7 cents a kilowatt-hour and 5 cents a kilowatt-hour," Mr. Ferguson declared. "The 7-cent rate applies to the first four kilowatt-hours per room per month, and the 5-cent rate applies on all additional kilowatt-hours used per month. The flat charge is based upon the number of rooms in a house. The customary method of counting rooms is used, under which alcoves, unfurnished attics, bathrooms, cellars, hallways, laundries, closets, pantries, open porches, garages, barns and all uninhabited outbuildings are not counted as rooms. Premises with four rooms or less than four rooms, are classed as four room homes and those with ten rooms or more are classed as ten room homes. The flat charge for a four-room house is $1.10 per month, with an additional 10 cents per room up to ten rooms.

The new commercial rate is similar in form with a flat charge based on the maximum demand for electric service and a meter rate with two steps of 7 cents and 5 cents a kilowatt-hour, but with an additional low step of 3 cents a kilowatt-hour. This rate applies to commercial customers, which class includes hotels, recognized rooming houses, schools, lodges, churches, offices, warehouses, hospitals, shops and stores, and covers use of current for lighting and the usual appliances.

These new rates were worked out by engineers of the Texas Power & Light company after thorough and careful study to provide an economical schedule of charges for use of electricity in Texas homes and business houses. Many new appliances have come into use in the modern home and progressive stores are making a great use of electricity for lighting, fans and other small power uses. The new rates encourage the use of more electricity at very little additional cost. Both rates are optional.

These new rates are made possible by the operating economies which result from increased use of electric power by communities as a whole and because of a system of efficient management under which a number of towns are grouped and directed by a centrally located organization, as well as by producing electricity in large centrally located generating stations and distributing it through transmission lines. The Texas Power & Light company has pioneered this class of service until today its modern system of transmission lines serves large and small communities with continuing economies."

MAN AND WOMAN PERISH IN EFFORT SCALE MOUNTAIN IN WASHINGTON STATE SUNDAY

BELLINGHAM, Wash., Aug. 20.—(P)—A party headed up the slopes of Mount Shuksan, near Mount Baker, Wash., today to recover the bodies of Miss Thelma Martin, Seattle librarian, and K. Furuya, Portland, Ore., artist, who perished in a summer blizzard Sunday.

News of the tragedy reached here after Miss Ella McDowell and her husband, Mildred, Navarro, Pickett and Purdon, were announced by Ted B. Ferguson, district manager of the Texas Power & Light company, to become effective with the next bills received by residential and commercial customers in these communities. Both rates are similar in form and are known as two part rates, with a flat charge and an energy charge.

BORDER CLASHES AND INCURSIONS BY ARMIES REPORTED

The two women and Wunderlin left Chain Lake camp early Sunday and encountered Furuya, an experienced mountaineer, who offered to lead the others on their part. Suddenly after the climbers had started, Furuya showed signs of weakening and in a few hours had given up completely. While his companions tried to revive him, Miss Martin collapsed, and both froze to death.

Grief stricken and harassed by chilling winds and blinding snow, the two remaining climbers attempted to make their way back to the camp. Their all night efforts failed and searchers found them dangerously near the edge of the cliff just before dawn yesterday.

"The new residential rate has a flat charge and two energy steps of 7 cents a kilowatt-hour and 5 cents a kilowatt-hour," Mr. Ferguson declared. LONE WOLF ROAMS WILDS OF WEST THIRD AVENUE

In the wilds of West Third avenue, in the 1400 block, where the Tom Pinkston and Lowry Martin ranches spread over the least open spaces and as we all know—where a man's a man—there prowls and howls a lone wolf.

Kumor has been going the rounds for some time that such a beast nightly roamed the neighborhood seeking his prey, baying at the moon and otherwise pursuing the activities and pastimes so dear to the heart of any well regulated wolf.

Now comes verification of the story in the persons of Tom Pinkston and Lowry Martin.

Tom, a wolf, has taken up permanent residence under his home place and Lowry says the animal uses his lawn as the official location on which to sit and serenade the moon.

The wolf has dug a passage under the steps of the Pinkston home which gives the animal easy access to his place of abode where he rests during the day and when evening falls he emerges to sing his song on the Martin lawn.

Messrs Pinkston and Martin corroborate in these statements.

Lowry says on several occasions he has placed food and water where the animal could get it.

The wolf is about 4 feet of growth and is thought to be someone's escaped pet. If such is the case Tom is very anxious the owner claim his property as he is not exactly favorable to the arrangement of the wolf making his permanent home under his residence.

LADY BIRDS RACE ACROSS TEXAS IN GREAT AIR DERBY

trouble on the El Paso-Pecos leg of the aerial race. Shortly after taking off from El Paso, Florence Lowe Barnes of San Marino, Calif., had trouble with her plane and returned to the El Paso airport. She again took the air for Pecos at 10:20 a. m. from the Overshot Field.

Gladys O'Donnell of Long Beach, Calif., in landing as Pecos "overshot" the airport and smashed the landing gear of her craft. She was able, however, to continue in the race without delay.

Blanche Noyes of Cleveland and Edith Foltz of Portland, Ore., also damaged their planes in landing at Pecos and were not expected to leave that place for several hours.

Mrs. Noyes landed about 10 miles west of Pecos after she discovered a fire in the cockpit of her plane. She said she found a lighted cigarette in a spare flying suit. She suffered slight burns in extinguishing the fire. In landing her plane, the under gear was damaged.

Lunch at Midland.
The fliers take off from Midland at 2 p. m. for Abilene, the afternoon refueling point, and then continue to Fort Worth, where the night will be spent. While in Midland, the aerial visitors were guests of the Midland Rotary club at a luncheon.

Mrs. Keith Miller of Australia also was delayed at Pecos by a broken gasoline gauge. With the exception of Miss Barnes, all of the other 16 entrants had checked in at Pecos.

Louise Thaden, Ruth Elder, Vera Walker, Neva Paris, Margaret Feltz, Ruth Miller and Mary Van Maack landed at the Midland airport in the order named.

The Rasche, the German aviator who caught up with her competitors yesterday when they were delayed in El Paso because of inclement weather, safely negotiated the mountainous country between El Paso and Pecos, and after refueling started for Midland.

Planes Left El Paso Early Hour Thursday

EL PASO, Aug. 22.—(P)—Fliers in the National Women's Air Derby en route to Cleveland for the national air races, took off from here for Pecos, Texas, at intervals beginning at 6 a. m.

The women fliers lined their planes up shortly before 6 o'clock, and at about two minute intervals took them into the air and roared away into the face of the rising sun.

Miss Ruth Nichols of Rye, N. Y., was the leader of the departing aviators. She was followed by the other members of the "derby." The women flew here yesterday from Douglas, Arizona. Originally they had planned to fly from Douglas to Midland, Texas, but inclement weather between El Paso and Midland caused race officials to order the flight halted overnight.

Good Flying Weather.
Weather reports today indicated that the lady birds would have excellent flying conditions, although they were warned before the start that they would have to hunt the "feeling" in order to pass over two ranges of mountains which rise to heights of from 3,000 to 6,000 feet in West Texas.

The fliers will pause for a check of time over Van Horn, and will make stops for refueling, inspection of planes and lunch at Pecos, and Midland. They will spend the night at Fort Worth.

Extensive preparations to guard the planes against sabotage, hints of which have arisen at points along the route, are already covered. Police and watchmen have been detailed by airport officials.

Mrs. Louise McPhetridge Thaden of Pittsburgh had her load in the tiny plane class with an elapsed time of 6 hours, 45 minutes and 31 seconds. In the light plane division, Mrs. Phoebe Omile of Memphis, Tenn., was in first place. Her elapsed time was 8 hours, 35 minutes and 24 seconds. The orange monoplane of Miss Earhart, pioneer woman trans-Atlantic flier, was the first to land here from Douglas, Ariz., Wednesday.

Planes Under Guard.
The planes were under guard last night following rumors of sabotage in connection with the race-to-ships in the race. Derby officials ordered that the guards remained here and at all control points on the remainder of the route.

The plane of Claire Fahy of Los Angeles, was forced out at Gales Creek with broken wing struts and a leaking gasoline tank. Bobbie, the orange monoplane of Miss Barnes, one of the other planes left after she smashed a landing gear at Algodones, Mexico. Miss Thea Rasche, German flier, found a "gas leak" in her gasoline tank but continued in the race after the tank had been inspected and cleaned. Miss Marvel Crosson was killed in a crash.

Miss Fahy reiterated in Los Angeles last night that her plane had been tampered with. She said her husband, Herbert J. Fahy, test pilot, told the district attorney of San Bernardino, who is investigating sabotage charges, that "no tampered wire in the world would have been broken unless it was tampered with." Fahy, alleged the tamperer of his wife's plane was tampered with acid.

The other planes left at intervals of about five minutes in the following order:

Phoebe Omile, Memphis; Mrs. Keith Miller, Australia; Gladys O'Donnell, Long Beach, Calif.; Edith Feltz, Portland, Ore.; Neva Paris, San Marino, Calif.; Louise Barnes, San Marino, Calif.; Ruth Elder, Los Angeles; Vera Walker, Los Angeles; Florence Barnes, San Marino, Calif.; Margaret Feltz, Portland, Ore.; Elizabeth Van Maack, Detroit; and Mary Elizabeth Von Mack, Detroit.

The start this morning was with no accident or mishap of any sort. Mrs. Florence Barnes, one of the fliers to take off from the municipal airport for Pecos, Texas, returned at 8:30 a. m. She had been forced to return because of engine trouble. One cylinder stopped functioning while she was endeavoring to cross mountains east of El Paso.

Hurried examination by mechanics showed a broken exhaust valve. Repairs were undertaken immediately.

NINETEEN PLANES FROM GALVESTON ON WAY TO AIR RACES

LEAVE EARLY THURSDAY AND EXPECT TO SPEND NIGHT IN MEMPHIS

TALLULAH, La., Aug. 22.—(P)—Eighteen attack planes and one transport ship from the Fort Crockett, Tex., army group arrived at the local air field at 11:15 a. m. The aviators resumed their trip to Cleveland in the afternoon.

The fliers were on hand but nothing to do. A crowd swarmed the place, and traffic became snarled. Soon the officers were directing traffic.

Twenty men piloted the planes, one pilot each for the attack group and two pilots for the big transport ship.

From Tallulah the fliers will go to Memphis for an overnight stop. Leaving early tomorrow for Louisville for a refueling stop, the fliers hope to reach Cleveland tomorrow afternoon.

Major John H. Jouett is in command of the flight.

Twenty Planes at Scott.

SCOTT FIELD, Ill., Aug. 22.—(P)—Fifteen pursuit planes and two amphibians of the navy, flying to the Cleveland air races arrived at 9:20 a. m. today from Kansas City accompanied by three other planes from nearby fields.

Pass Alexandria.

ALEXANDRIA, Aug. 22.—(P)—Eighteen army planes of the third attack group from Fort Crockett, Texas, en route to Cleveland passed over Alexandria at 10:10 o'clock.

The Rasche, Germany, 9:59:15 (unofficial).

Light planes:

Phoebe Omile, Memphis, 8:35:24.

Edith Feltz, Portland, Ore., 9:51:30.

Mrs. Keith Miller, Australia, 18:31:58.

Fort Worth Ready.

FORT WORTH, Aug. 22.—(P)—Preparations for greeting fliers in the women's air derby have been completed, and the committee in charge plans to welcome a tired group of young women. When the women fliers land their planes at the municipal airport, they will have completed the most grueling day of the entire race.

Although the speediest of the planes was expected to arrive here by 6:30 o'clock, airport officials were dubious this schedule could be maintained. Plans have been made to receive the slower planes into the night.

Several entertainment features have been planned for the fliers.

Fire in One Plane.

PECOS, Aug. 22.—(P)—Mrs. Blanche Noyes of Cleveland, Ohio, landed her plane in sixth place at this refueling point in the national women's aerial derby today after a forced landing 10 miles west of Pecos, because of a fire in her engine.

A lighted cigarette was found in a spare flying suit in the cockpit, but Mrs. Noyes managed to land the craft and extinguish the fire, suffering slight burns herself. In making the landing she broke the landing gear of her plane but had no trouble in alighting here.

Mrs. Keith Miller zoomed across the control line at 9:17 a. m., closely following her came Amella Earhart of trans-Atlantic fame.

Ruth Nichols First.

PECOS, Aug. 22.—(P)—Ruth Nichols was the first of the national women's aerial derby fliers to reach Pecos, a refueling point. She arrived at 7:38 a. m. (Mountain Time) from El Paso. Weather conditions were ideal.

Phoebe Omile was the second flier to check in at this point. She was closely followed by Gladys O'Donnell. Mrs. Omile was timed at 7:53 a. m., and Mrs. O'Donnell 28 seconds later. Miss O'Donnell "overshot" the field on her landing and slightly damaged the left underwing of her craft.

Lunch at Midland.

MIDLAND, Aug. 22.—(P)—Ruth Nichols, Rye, N. Y., led woman aviators into Midland today closely followed by Phoebe Omile, Memphis. Amella Earhart, Boston, was third and Gladys O'Donnell, Long Beach, Calif., fourth.

Mrs. Nichols, who also led the fliers into Pecos, landed here at 9:00 a. m. She was followed by Miss Omile at 10:07 a. m., Miss Earhart at 10:18 a. m., and Miss O'Donnell at 10:22 a. m.

During their halt here the fliers were to be guests of the Midland Rotary club at a luncheon.

They were to take off at 2 p. m.

SHIPS SEARCHING FOR SWISS FLYERS IN ATLANTIC OCEAN

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—(P)—With only the barest hope that the young Swiss fliers, Oscar Kaeser and Kurt Luescher, survived their westward trans-Atlantic flight attempt, crews of naval and merchant vessels today scanned the north Atlantic for trace of them.

Admiral Charles F. Hughes, chief of naval operations, had ordered naval vessels to maintain a sharp watch for the Swiss airmen and requested merchant ships to do the same. At Roosevelt Field, aviators clung to a faint hope that the white monoplane "Jungschweizerland" might yet appear on the eastern horizon, but the hope grew dim with each passing hour.

The youthful fliers, one 21 and the other 22 years old, were last seen flying westward over the village in the Azores on Monday afternoon.

They should have reached American shores early Tuesday. The 500 gallons of gasoline with which they left Lisbon, bound for New York, could not have kept them in the air much later than that.

While the crop is opening more rapidly and much earlier than usual, the crop is being harvested at almost maximum speed and no dearth of pickers is reported in any section of the county. Crop conditions in other sections of the state is given as the reason for the plentiful supply of labor.

Many observers believe that the farmers of the county will actually move more out of the shortened crop, than they would under the usual conditions, because of the smaller expense of making their crop this year, made possible by the fact that few farmers have needed to use poison to protect their plants this season, entailing a saving in labor and material.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Doak Roberts of Dallas, formerly residents of Corsicana, are spending several days in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Duke Ransom and other relatives.

Mr. Roberts, veteran president of the Texas league, who is on a leave of absence of several months, has been in ill health for some time, but is reported considerably improved during the past few weeks.

W. B. Ruggles, Dallas newspaperman, and statistician of the league, is the acting president of the Roberts' circuit.

Bandit Goes to Sleep on Job in Chicago Cafe

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—(P)—The bandit was very sleepy. He could hardly keep his eyes open as with a revolver in each hand he walked into an eating place just south of West Chicago last night and ordered 35 customers to put up their hands.

"Line up against the wall," he ordered, yawning.

He was about to search them for valuables when he observed a cushioned bench at one side of the dining room. He went over and lay down, keeping his gun pointed at the others.

Of this number, three were new members which entered on the final day of grace opened by the director, C. F. Brugh, physical director of the local Y. M. C. A.

The second lesson consisted of several simple exercises which are intended to rid the beginner of the fear of water and give him the correct style of swimming.

RALSTON IS NAMED
HEAD OF MAGNOLIA
REFINERY HERE

Announcement was made at the local Magnolia refinery here Thursday morning that W. C. Ralston, assistant superintendent of that plant for many years, had been named superintendent to succeed the late W. H. Hastings, who had served in that capacity for many years.

Mr. Ralston is capable and knows the refinery business, as he has been in that line of work for more than thirty years. He is a kindly man and well liked by his superiors and the men who have worked under him for so long. His elevation to the management of the big local plant will be received with interest and pleasure by Corsicanans and employees of the refinery in particular.

These appointments were made, Mr. Cox stated today, because of the Cox store's sincere desire to provide a worth-while and dependable fashion service to the women of the section served by the Corsicanans unit of this firm.

"We believe that Central Texas women of today, no matter whether they live in a large town, small town or the country, all have a well-developed fashion sense, and a keen knowledge of style and value," said Mr. Cox yesterday. "And according to our plan we will provide for a fashion service that can be duplicated only in the larger buying centers of the country. By this we mean we offer fashion merchandise that we know to be authentic and correct, and that we seek to have the best salespeople to assist our customers in making the proper selections. We cordially invite all the women of this section to come and greet Mrs. Stuart and Mrs. Weaver in their new departments."

BANK DIRECTORS ADOPT RESOLUTIONS ON DEATH HALBERT

At a recent meeting of the board of directors of the First State Bank of Corsicana the following resolutions in memory of the late J. L. Halbert, a member of the board of that institution, were adopted unanimously:

We, your committee appointed to draft resolutions on the death of J. L. Halbert, who has passed on to his eternal rest, to sleep amidst the flowers and birds and cheerful surroundings in his last resting place.

He was a worthy representative of this organization. The reports recite the great work that he has done and the manner in which he carried it on. He was a most lovable character, true as steel in every way. To say that we have sustained a personal loss in the death of J. L. Halbert is expressed in very inefficient terms. This bank has lost one of its strongest supporters and most earnest workers in the death of this good man.

He was endowed with high purposes and his every act was to carry into effect those policies of mind and heart that were helpful to his fellow men.

Our acquaintance with his many years of service in this bank has fixed in our mind that he was a most honest, loyal and faithful man. In his death we have sustained a great loss and it will be hard to fill his place in this organization.

He was untiring in his effort to promote the interests of this bank.

He was always ready to lend his great ability to promote any proposition that looked to the advancement of the bank and the betterment of its interests. He occupied the highest places in the city and was held in the highest esteem by both his friends and the citizens of the city and of the state.

The great sorrow we have sustained by reason of his death can only be softened by the lapse of time and we can but show our appreciation of his kindly efforts and worthiness as members of this bank by imitating the big example that he has set for us.

He lived a pure life and had a happy home and family. His surroundings in every respect was of the highest character and of the purest mold.

He was a capable and successful business man. He was a deserving man and was careful and painstaking in everything he did. His nature was soft and gentle as springtime and his interest in everything he undertook to do was most kindly.

To his good wife and to the others who were near and dear to him we extend our sincerest sympathy in their bereavement.

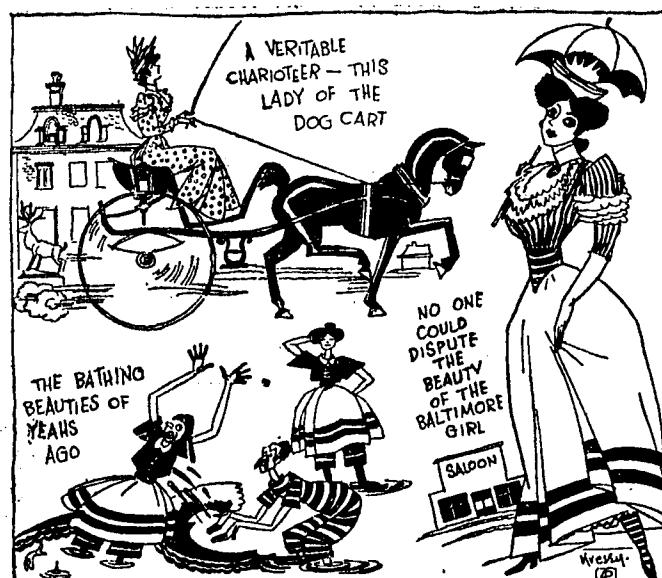

We ask that this tribute to his memory be placed upon the minutes of the bank and a copy be given the press for publication.

E. A. JOHNSON,
BYRON CHENEY,
Committee.

OPEN LETTER

To Cotton Farmers

The following letter is self-explanatory regarding the Corsicana cotton market, and everyone interested in marketing his cotton will find it profitable to read it:

(COPY OF LETTER)

Chamber of Commerce

United States Chamber of Commerce

MEMBER:

Texas Commercial Executives' Association

Corsicana, Texas, August 6, 1929.

To The President and Board of Directors,
Chamber of Commerce,
Corsicana, Texas.

Gentlemen:

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON COTTON FEE

We, your committee named by the president to investigate the FIFTY CENT PER BALE COTTON HANDLING FEE and seek its elimination, have held several conferences with representatives of the several factors interested.

Our findings, briefly, are as follows:

First, the fifty cent per bale fee was added by local cotton merchants at the beginning of last year's cotton season to meet what they felt was a part of the legitimate expense incident to the marketing of cotton.

Second, the fee was unpopular with the farmers and worked to the disadvantage of the local spot market.

Through the very fine cooperation of each of the interested groups, we have been able to arrive at what we believe is an entirely satisfactory solution for eliminating the fee.

The local banks, through the Corsicana Clearing House, have agreed to waive exchange on clearance of inter-bank transactions within the city.

The Corsicana Warehouse Company and E. K. Moore's Cotton Yard have agreed to lower their fee per bale from seventy-five to sixty cents.

Corsicana cotton merchants have agreed, in view of these concessions, to eliminate immediately the fifty-cent per bale charge to the farmer and thus absorb their part of this handling fee, giving the advantage to the farmer.

We have found a spirit of give and take among these groups and a desire to keep Corsicana to the forefront as a favorable local cotton market. We believe the farmer will appreciate this desire to work to his interest and the community as a whole will be benefitted through good will which will come from this action.

Respectfully submitted, A. G. ELLIOTT, Chairman.

COMMITTEE: I. N. Cerf, J. N. Edens, Guy Gibson,
Wade Smith, B. Kenner, Kal Shwarts.

GOVERNOR MOODY INCLINED TO CONSIDER EFFORT SAVE PEOPLE'S CASH THANKLESS

AUSTIN, Aug. 20.—(P)—Governor Moody has about decided it is a thankless job—this thing of trying to save the taxpayers a few dollars on the state rate. Every one who observed his work on the top-heavy appropriation bills was convinced that it was a tedious and trying task. It required constant application, much midnight oil and limitless diplomacy.

By day he received and listened to scores of individuals and committees who called on him to urge him to leave untouched any public items they were interested in. By night, surrounded by a committee of advisers, he attempted to do his whittling, excusing care to take from the money measures only items that were not absolutely necessary and senators and representatives camped on his trail.

Notwithstanding all the influences brought to bear on him to leave certain items untouched, he swept everything aside and made an effort to size up the situation as an unblazed Texas—a governor trying to hold the tax rate down.

After he had done his work there came criticism from many quarters. Some of the departments did not like it because he had curtailed their allotments for help. The board of control chairman contended that by cutting the eleemosynary bill, the governor had forced a situation that was difficult of solution. It was stated that the institutions would have to revert to their double shift, in probable violation of the 9-54 hour

Cuts From Building.

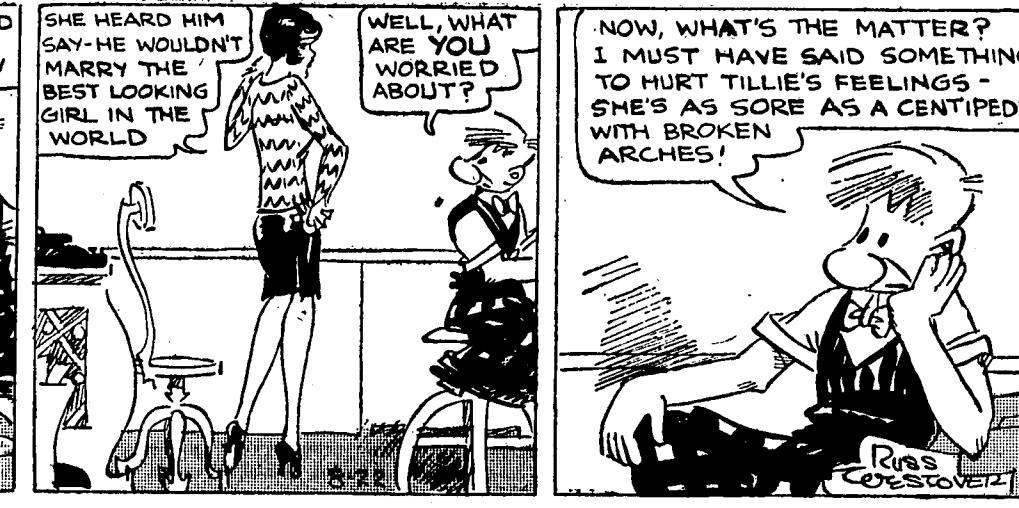

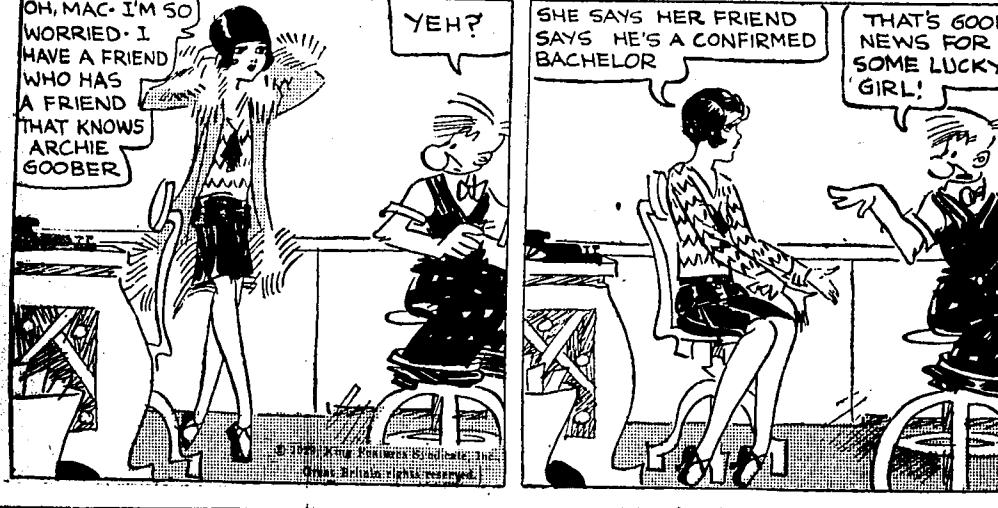

It necessitated the veto of buildings for four colleges and schools. Fearing that the governor might decide these buildings could be eliminated for the time being, friends of the schools poured into his office to urge their approval.

FURTHER BULLISH DEMONSTRATIONS AT MARKET'S OPENING
CREDIT SITUATION SEIZED UPON BY OPERATORS FOR ADVANCE AS BULLISH

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—(AP)—The stock market opened today with further bullish demonstrations in the rails and high priced industries. Westinghouse Electric opened with a block of 5,000 shares, up 3 1/4 points to a record price. Commercial Investment Trust, opening 1 to 1 3/4 points higher, and U. S. Steel, Montgomery Ward, International Harvester, International Telephone, Air Reduction and Northern Pacific Commercial Solvents, was an isolated spot, losing 4 1/2 points.

The fast that the Kank of England made no change in its discount rate of 5 1/2 per cent, sentiment in London having improved with the importation of about $5,000,000 in gold from Australia, was seized upon by operators for the advance as a bullish development.

General Electric ran up nearly 7 points, and Westinghouse Electric extended its gain to more than 5 points, touching a new record price at 262. Renewed buying came into the utilities, coppers and oils.

Gillette Safety Razor and Woolworth rose about 3 points to record prices, and U. S. Steel gained nearly 4 points. Commercial Investment Trust, Eastman Kodak, International Harvester, American Can, American Rolling Mill, and American and Foreign Power were bid up 2 or 3 points in the first half hour.

General Motors, Radio, Tone and Webster, Texas Corp., Pennsylvania Railroad, American Smelting and Public Service of New Jersey were among issues rising a point or more. Commercial Solvents quickly rallied, making up its early loss and registering a gain of a couple of points. American Telephone sagged a couple of points, but also rallied. All Chalmers, old back about 4 points.

Foreign exchanges opened steady, with Cables ruling at $4.84 18-16.

The closing was firm. Total sales approximated 3,600,000 shares.

MARVEL CROSSEN FOUND DEAD NEAR PLANE IN ARIZONA

PRETTY SAN DIEGO FLYER HAD JUMPED BUT PARA-CHUTE FAILED OPEN

PHOENIX, Ariz., Aug. 20. (AP)—The body of Miss Marvel Crosson, San Diego flyer reported missing last night when other entrants of the women's air derby from Santa Monica, Calif., to Cleveland, landed here, was found early today six miles north of Wellton, Ariz. The body was found some distance from her wrecked plane, her parachute released but unopened. The searching party which found the body said it was apparent trouble had developed and she had leaped in an attempt to save her life.

Miss Crosson was flying from San Bernardino to Phoenix. Fear for her safety had been expressed upon her failure to arrive and searching parties were sent out when residents of the Wellton area reported seeing an airplane plunge into a heavy cottonwood growth along the Gila river.

Colorful Pilot.

Miss Crosson was one of the most colorful of the women pilots who took off from Clover Field Sunday to compete in the $25,000 race. She was 25 years old.

From early girlhood Miss Crosson was fascinated by aviation. She took up active flying with her brother, Joe, in 1922 at San Diego, Calif., with a plane purchased from surplus army stocks. In the spring of 1923 she made her first solo flight, and, developing rapidly as an expert pilot, entered the commercial aviation field.

Two years after she first took a plane aloft alone, she took up commercial flying in Alaska, where her brother was employed as a trans-polar pilot.

High Altitude Record.

Miss Crosson's most recent achievement was the establishment of a woman's altitude record of 23,996 feet over Los Angeles last June.

She was born in Warsaw, Ind., April 27, 1904. She was graduated from Logan county high school in Colorado.

Miss Crosson's body was found about 300 feet from the plane. Badly broken, it indicated she probably had met instant death from the fall. Around her broken form was draped the parachute which failed to open. The rip cord had been pulled.

The plane, too, was badly smashed. Eye witnesses to its fall late yesterday said it had gone into a tail spin, diving from an elevation of approximately 1,000 feet.

Had Motor Trouble.

WICHITA, Kas., Aug. 20. (AP)—Miss Marvel Crosson, Women's Air Derby flier who fell to her death near Wellton, Ariz., experienced motor trouble in her Travel Air Speedwing Chapparal biplane while en route to the coast to enter the race, Walter H. Beech, president of the Travelair Company, said today.

A new Whirlwind motor to replace the one in her plane was shipped to Santa Monica, Beech said, and arrived in time. He declared he was at a loss to say why the motor had not been installed.

The Chapparal was capable of a speed of 160 miles an hour Beech asserted.

PLAINVIEW YOUTH WAS KILLED WHILE RIDING ON TRAIN

CARROLLTON, Aug. 20. (AP)—Sam B. Moore, 19, of Plainview, Texas, was instantly killed aboard a freight train at Meadoway, near Plainview, last night.

Moore and Jack Ryan, a companion, had boarded the train at Dallas and were riding on a car loaded with bridge steel. At Meadoway, the steel slipped, and Moore's head was crushed. His companion jumped in time to escape capture. The body was taken in charge by a Carrollton undertaker, but later it was transferred to Plainview. It will be sent to Plainview tonight.

Moore is survived by his widow and a two-months-old daughter.

LIEUT. HENRY TONCRAY DIES
IN HOUSTON; WELL KNOWN IN CORTICANA

HOUSTON, Aug. 20.—The body of Henry E. Toncray, 34, commercial aviator and veteran flier, who died at the Baptist hospital Sunday night from blood poisoning developing from a mosquito bite, was sent to Troup Monday afternoon via the Sunshine Special, by the Oliver-Lewis company for interment.

"Something must be done about these people in automobiles that seem to have an uncontrollable desire to race the fire trucks when the department is answering a call," the commissioner explained in his gruffest manner, which one must admit at its greatest likes a lot of being hard boiled.

"Such a habit is not only dangerous to the occupants of the pursuing automobiles, fire trucks and pedestrians alike but it is also a violation of the law," he said. "When the department is answering an alarm the trucks are running at least thirty or thirty-five miles an hour and anyone running ahead of or keeping up with the trucks is not only endangering human life but is violating the speed laws of the city."

"Whereas, I will issue instructions to the police department as well as designate a fireman to secure the numbers of all automobiles racing with the fire trucks and the drivers will be brought into police court and heavily fined," was the ultimatum of the commissioner.

"Put that in your paper please; Mr. Reporter, and when these erstwhile amateur race drivers are haled into court and made to pay $100 for the speed complex you can't say they have 'got' warn'd—and that's not idle talk," smiled the commissioner.

FINANCE COMMITTEE
REPUBLICANS BACK
PROPOSAL OF REED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21. (AP)—Senate finance committee republicans today tentatively approved a proposal by Senator Reed of Pennsylvania, to change from foreign to United States value as the primary basis for assessing ad valorem tariffs.

Under the new plan all the ad valorem duties carried in the bill would have to be reduced because the domestic value is much higher than the foreign. The rates, however, would not be converted immediately but would be left for the tariff commission to translate and submit to congress for approval.

While ad valorem rates would be lowered, they would be converted to bring in the same revenue as the rates in the present law and the bill under consideration, both of which are based on foreign value.

TWO BIG STILLS DESTROYED AFTER RAID IN DENTON

DALLAS, Aug. 21. (AP)—Four men, arrested in a raid about one-half mile over the Denton county line, were to be arraigned here today for the setting of bond on charges of violating liquor laws.

The copper stills of 800-gallon capacity were destroyed and about 8,000 gallons of moon mash and 80 gallons of whiskey were seized in the raid, which was participated in by federal prohibition officers.

Location of the stills necessitated the filing of complaints in the Sherman district for the northern division of Texas, but temporary bonds could be made before Lee R. Smith, United States commissioner here.

POLITICS WILL BE CAPITAL
FEATURE DURING FULL YEAR
RESULT NEW ARRANGEMENTS

By FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON
Associated Press Staff Writer.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 21. (AP)—

There is going to be politics the year round in Washington.

With the new Democratic organization at the capital already in operation, the Republicans are mobilizing a new setup which will get under way next month.

Claudius Huston of Tennessee is slated to be the new chairman of the Republican national committee and the active general of the Republican organization. A. F. Dawson, Iowa banker and former newspaper man, is to be the man on the job—the field captain, or executive secretary.

Dawson is to take office here with the Republican national committee and serve as liaison officer among all Republican organizations including the national committee and the senatorial and congressional campaign committees.

A publicity drive timed to coincide with the consideration of the tariff bill in the senate, is to be launched as a counter offensive to the Democratic publicity campaign.

Lieutenant Toncray became interested in aviation in 1912. He built his own plane at Troup and for 17 years had devoted his time to flying. He saw service with the air force during the world war and was instructor in aviation for some time.

In 1921 Lieutenant Toncray was married to Miss Marle Blanchard of Oakdale, La. The ceremony was performed while the couple were flying over New Orleans, and was the first air wedding in the United States where the groom piloted his ship at the time.

Lieutenant Toncray owned and operated a fleet of six planes, including five land and one seven-passenger amphibian plane. He was an aviation instructor during the World war and recently flew the amphibian plane to Dallas.

Surviving are his wife of Lone Oak; a daughter, Bobbie Marie Toncray of Lone Oak; Mother, Mrs. Annie Toncray of Troup, and brother, A. C. Toncray of Lone Oak.

Lieut. Henry E. Toncray was well known in Corsicana, where he had been a frequent visitor in his plane. At one time he planned a cotton dusting project in this county to kill boll weevils. He did considerable flying here and was an aviator at the opening of the municipal airport the latter part of April this year, at which time he flew the plane bringing the cow, sow and hen from Dallas, gifts of John W. Carpenter, president of the Texts Power & Light company to the people of his home county. He was known as a competent and careful flyer.

Shell Shocked
War Vet Slays
Benefactress

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20. (AP)—Brooding over an imaginary wrong, David L. Lizarrao, 35, shell shocked war veteran, stabbed to death his benefactress, Miss Egle Ashmun, 34, yesterday as she talked with him in front of the offices of the American Red Cross of which she was executive secretary.

Scores of persons saw Lizarrao plunge a knife in the woman's throat and then flee through the crowded streets. He was captured and was taken to prison.

Miss Ashmun, a world war nurse and Red Cross worker since 1918, died five minutes after her assassin struck.

Lizarrao has signed a confession admitting the killing.

Police learned Lizarrao was obsessed with the idea that he was being robbed by the Red Cross which handled his disability compensation. He had been in the state hospital for insane. Miss Ashmun had befriended the veteran at various times.

President Hoover is satisfied with the reorganized Republican campaign plans and is credited by many with inspiring the arrangement. Senator Watson of Indiana, is one of those giving impetus to the program for a more active party organization.
